It's exciting times ahead.

A new nation and changing horizons...

Desa ParkCity is all about community, and constantly offering a first-class experience to our neighbourhoods and families. This inaugural issue of EXCITE brings you news about where to dine and unwind, with making your stay at Desa ParkCity a rewarding one.

The Waterfront at Desa ParkCity is evolving – by end-2019, it will be ready to offer patrons with more choices amidst new lush greens and rich foliage. Plaza Arkadia is filling up at a steady pace – with a myriad of interesting F&B outlets now open and more visitors chilling in its cosy ambience. Nearby in Car Park 3 outdoors, we are playing host to many expos and large-scale shows that will bring in entertainment for the whole family.

This year, the ParkCity Group has expansions in Hanoi, Vietnam, with a shopping precinct ready next year. In East Malaysia, Miri Times Square has just been completed and will welcome its first outlets soon – placing ParkCity as a community builder for the people of Miri.

A warm welcome to exciting offerings to come, and a glorious future.

Desa ParkCity

- a brief history

15 years ago, 473 acres of land stood unwaning, awaiting a transformation that is now known as – Desa ParkCity. It started with a vision by a company that did not have a long history in property development, but possessed a fervent desire to create something that was at that time “out of the box” for the urban population. What unfolded was a thriving neighbourhood integrated with modern life; housing, work places, education, leisure and entertainment – all within sustainable, natural landscapes and an extensive network that connected residents. From humble beginnings of a few compounds surrounding the waters, the Desa ParkCity community has grown rapidly with a plethora of reputable sought-after restaurants, educational centres for children, and fitness hubs. The world has now been bundled into one that is compact, convenient, and cool. The success of Desa ParkCity’s self-sufficiency has even gone on to expand to Miri, Sarawak and Hanoi, Vietnam reinforcing the benefits of flourishing townships within cities for both the people and environment. Although credited with official accolades, the residents’ satisfaction with Desa ParkCity’s fundamental philosophies will always be what spurs the brand onto greater ventures.

Kenny Hills Bakers

Intended to be an aloof spot that serves great coffee and artisanal breads, Kenny Hills Bakers has now become a name on the radar for all those seeking quality pastries. The founder of Kenny Hills, Mr Au, opened his first outlet in the serene area of Bukit Tunku in 2014, as one of the first hip cafes to enter the KL scene. The owner chose not to target the mass market due to his principles of providing a natural food in a “slow” manner. This includes preparing organic based food with the likes of stone mill organic flour without any added preservatives or artificial flavours. A rare gem amongst falsities, Kenny Hills prioritises the consistency of their products over robotic services in order to fine-tune their recipes to absolute perfection. The inspiration for Kenny Hills Bakers stemmed from the concept of being “old school” by embodying the basics and serving takeaway coffee and bread. As Kenny Hills Bakers started to pick up traffic - Mr. Au began to find like-minded individuals who appreciated his vision, and his dedicated employees who are equally as passionate, and were professionally trained for 6 consecutive months by a “master baker” from the U.K. With so many delectable goodies, it can be overwhelming to make a choice but if you had to choose – try their infamous triple threat: Pies, pizzas, and pastas! (Eating all three in one sitting permitted). Every single one of their treats will leave you salivating for more, but if you want to go off the beaten track, dabble your fingers into Mr. Au’s personal favourite: the sourdough thin crust pizzas. You could also try his originals and indulge in some oh-so-yummy carbs; Au claims that the breads have an “English feel” to them as it follows recipes formulated hundreds of years ago. An additional benefit that you won’t be able to find elsewhere is that Kenny Hills Bakers is diet-friendly. They try their best to use ingredients that don’t cause bloating, as well as vegetarian-based tarts for a healthier twist. Despite all the heart-warming praise this bakery gets, Au still sees Kenny Hills Bakers as your average neighbourhood patisserie. From humble beginnings, Kenny Hills remains a people-driven business, but remains optimistic about creating ridiculously delicious food that is good for you. After all, the world always needs more pastries!

Anther & Stigma Floral Café

A café like no other, Anther and Stigma is a multi-faceted space that provides flower arrangement services and the picture-perfect place for events. With stunning scents that fill the air, you can expect to be swept off your feet by a whirlwind of joy, and if you wanted to bring a date, you'll be glad to know there's a "Tea for Two" promotion at a steal of RM55- Share the experience over a floral tea set consisting of assorted Malaysian desserts and sandwiches. Feeling grateful or romantic? Anther & Stigma has got you covered by offering the lovely coupling of a bouquet of fresh roses and buttercream cake for RM220. Talk about swooning.

Kuro Japanese Steamboat

Magnificently delivering authentic Steamboat experiences, the founders of this gem spent extensive time in Japan, honing in their own skills under experienced chefs. Not only did they bring the art back to KL, but they have also implemented a typically Malaysian demand – variety! Kuro offers over 37 ingredients including a mix of "thinly sliced, melt-in-your-mouth" Japanese pork belly, Australian beef, and seafood. If it's your birthday, you get a special 10% discount off the adult buffet, so dig in, or rather, scoop in.

Nutz n Boltz

Feel-good vibes run through the foundation of Nutz n Boltz whilst bringing a colourful menu to the people. With a reputation as a snazzy restobar, you'll be sure to enjoy perfect treats such as the soft shell crab buttermilk linguine, chicky jerk with an Asian twist, tantalizing apricot-glazed salmon, and plenty of Asian classics to rub your tummy the right way. If you're feeling a little sinful, sip on the refreshingly fruity cocktails that mesh contemporary flares with Cuban and Spanish classics. Enjoy with good company, or alone... We won't judge.

The Social

As a popular staple in KL's food industry, The Social strives to be a second home that is no stranger amongst family, friends, and colleagues. With scrumptious dishes ranging from local delights to western comfort food, there's always something for everyone. Not to mention, with the recent World Cup, this hot spot was screening all football matches live and offering the "Tiger Fiver Promotion" (RM 80 for 5 glasses of Tiger Beer).

If that didn't pique your interest, "The Amazing Social Race Charity Event" was the first of its kind that includes an adrenaline-filled race requiring a completion of 15 challenges around the Central Park to win a grand prize. To top it all off, the evening continued with a music charity event and even more exciting prizes up for grabs!

This is a version of Carbonara that I make at home for my boys, which is different from what we do at Lucky Peaches, without the heavy cooking cream. It's everyone's favourite, but with a little twist. The recipe calls for duck eggs but you could be a little more adventurous and try this recipe with cured or pickled raw duck egg instead. I love using duck eggs as they are a lot creamier and full of flavour, but be warned it comes with the added calories too!

The superstar here, without a doubt is the yolk from the duck egg. In case you're wondering where you can get these, they are readily available at any good grocer. My advice is to go for free-range versions as they are absolutely worth the difference!

Most Malaysians prefer the cooked cream version, which is not what we'll be aiming for today. Instead, we'll be paying homage to the traditional Carbonara recipe by adding an Asian touch in true Lucky Peaches fashion. You'll be pleasantly surprised with the results as it gives a cleaner taste that is both richer and more flavourful. Have a go at it and enjoy!

Lucky Peaches is a cosy spot tucked away in Plaza Arkadia, which serves up comfort food inspired by Asian flavours, along with delicious and luscious cakes from Huckleberry.

SERVING SIZE: 2 PORTIONS

INGREDIENTS

CREAMY SAUCE:

- 2 duck eggs (free range if possible. You may replace with chicken eggs if your diet doesn't allow you, but it won't be as full in flavour)
- 3 chicken eggs (free range if possible)
- 60 grams Parmigiano cheese, roughly shaved (if you prefer a stronger flavour, a Pecorino works just as well)
- A generous pinch of freshly ground Sarawak black pepper

THE COMPLETE DISH:

- 60gm pasta of choice – linguine, fettuccine or spaghetti
- 3 tbsp olive oil
- 3 cloves of minced garlic
- A generous pinch of freshly ground Sarawak black pepper
- 1 tbsp butter (I always prefer salted but feel free to go with unsalted)
- Extra shaved Parmigiano cheese
- Sea salt
- A dash of Togarashi spice (these are available in the Japanese section of any established grocer)

Note: You may choose to add in a handful of cubed pancetta, bacon bits, (if this is within your dietary allowance) or cubed smoked duck (approx. 40g), which works great too!

STEPS

TO MAKE CREAMY SAUCE:

- 1 Crack duck eggs and separate yolks (save the egg whites to make a rich pavlova!)

- 2 Combine duck yolks, chicken eggs (yolks only), cheese and pepper into a blender.
- 3 Blend till smooth. It is also suggested to make this ahead of time.

TO COMPLETE DISH:

- 1 Boil pasta of choice in a large pot with heavily salted water and ensure water is boiling with plenty of room for the pasta to float around. You'll know when the pasta is done when it's soft but still has a firm bite to it.
- 2 Heat olive oil in a large skillet over medium to high heat.
- 3 Cook the diced pancetta/bacon bits/smoked duck until lightly browned, (omit this step if not used) then add minced garlic and pepper. Cook till fragrant.
- 4 When the pasta is ready, drain well into a colander and add to the skillet.
- 5 Add butter and creamy sauce and return to a low medium heat.
- 6 Now this step is very important : continue to swirl the creamy pasta mix by using a tong. Move the skillet over and away from the flame for just enough heat, until the cream sauce starts to thicken. It should resemble a creamy, mayonnaise like consistency. Do not rush, or you'll risk ending up with pasta a la scrambled eggs!
- 7 Taste and season with a little bit more sea salt if required, then generously sprinkle carbonara with even more grated cheese before serving.
- 8 Finish off with a dash of Togarashi spice.

A family-style garage concept which is unpretentious bestencapsulates Nutz n Boltz, says owner – Ad Lincoln, but what makes this joint so special is its embedded values. Hailing from a simple start in the Food & Beverage industry, Nutz n Boltz first opened an outlet in Puchong, then brought the project to Desa ParkCity in May 2017. Thankfully, he decided to pursue his venture, now located in Plaza Arkadia, in partnership with his wife and created a plethora of fusion dishes, as well as a seriously cosy ambiance. With Ad Lincoln's wife managing the menu, there are a whopping 90 dishes – so get ready to smack your lips and learn all about it from the man himself.

What is the cuisine like in Nutz n Boltz? And what is your best selling item on your menu?

Everything from local, Asian, Western, Northern Indian, you name it! You'll find that each category has its trophy winner. My best sellers are my Flame & Grilled chicken, lamb rack, mutton masala pizza and chicken tandoori pizza. Of course from the Northern Indian side – I have my chicken makanwala, which goes down quite well!

What is the best way to describe the cuisine in Nutz n Boltz?

We take Western food and infuse it with an Asian touch. As an Asian myself, I feel that Asian fusion food does really well.

What kind of crowd does your restaurant bring in?

I'm blessed that for all of my outlets, majority of my customers are there for the food. I'm not into 'price war games' where you to slash your beer prices for a short time frame to attract customers. For me, my food is priority.

Are your typical everyday customers mainly families?

I try to focus on catering to families, because I believe that a family that eats together stays together. A lot of my beliefs and philosophies are incorporated into the design of both Nutz n Boltz and RaamRavan. I try to cater to everyone for every occasion.

Is it taxing to prepare such a wide range of menu items?

I treat my employees like family, so they're always happy to add things into the menu. I also consult my staff before putting items on my menu.

What inspired you to be one of the first tenants in Plaza Arkadia?

I was approached by a property agent in my Puchong outlet. At the time, I was very new in the industry and decided against it. When I first saw Plaza Arkadia, I was a bit confused as to how the final development would look but as soon as I saw this lot, I heard my calling! I told the agent that it was the outlet that I wanted.

What can the residents and patrons of Plaza Arkadia expect from their visit to Nutz n Boltz?

Safety and hygiene. I check my entire outlet 3 times a week to ensure everything is in tip-top condition. We also like our staff to mingle with the families and children to give them a sense of safety. And not to forget, the excellent food! We never use cheap ingredients. My whole family dines here, so I would only serve my customers what I would serve my own family!

Ad Lincoln believes that "a family who eats together stays together" and stresses the importance of how Nutz n Boltz only serves food that his family too, would consume. He is so family-oriented that even your fur babies are allowed at the restaurant! All in all, patrons can expect the utmost cleanliness, service, and appetizing food at Nutz n Boltz, so get over there and try something new.
