Sleep Apnoea & Your Dentist. Are They Related?

Do you happen to suffer from snoring at night, and most often wake up in the morning still feeling tired? You may want to see your dentist about the possibility of Obstructive Sleep Apnoea (OSA). One of the earliest signs that someone may be having OSA is usually diagnosed from the teeth. Very commonly we dentists see patients exhibiting tooth wear or bruxism – commonly known as night grinding – which most often is the earliest presenting sign of developing OSA.

Whilst the cause of OSA is multifactorial and requires a collaborative diagnosis and management between the ENT Specialist and your dentist, the basis of OSA is essentially a restriction of the amount of air your body is getting while you sleep. This results in the snoring (that your partner may be complaining of!) and the resultant tiredness as there is a lack of oxygen supplied to the body during this period of rest. From a dental aspect, the reason the bruxism occurs is as a compensatory mechanism of the body in an attempt to gain more air for breathing. This however, wears down the teeth, and thus reduces even more space for air to enter the body via the mouth resulting in a vicious cycle that keeps on repeating and worsening on itself; hence termed Obstructive Sleep Apnoea.

Dr Sindhu Mohan Kumar is the principal dentist at Zenith Dentistry, Plaza Arkadia. The focus of her practice is centered around restorative dentistry, orthodontics and oral surgery. She is currently conducting a study on the impact of restoring worn teeth and its resultant effect on improving OSA as part of the MSc in Aesthetic Dentistry program at King's College London that she is currently pursuing. For more information about OSA and what you can do about it, feel free to schedule a consultation with Dr Sin to learn more.

As the winners of the FIABCI Malaysia Property Award 2018 for Master Plan Category, we promise you nothing but the best of memories in our township.

Love and appreciation fills the air as both Mother's Day and Father's Day arrives. So why not treat our two VIPs to a memorable day, packed with a scrumptious brunch and sensational presents? For mum, handcrafted gifts from the weekend market at The Waterfront or Plaza Arkadia will leave her with all smiles. Or if she's a traditional, invest in a bouquet of flowers! And while she's enjoying these gifts, perhaps a brand new bike for Dad to cycle around The Central Park?

Show your family just how much you care by treating them to a day (or two...) in KL's most livable township.

And it keeps getting better at Desa ParkCity, as new outlets have joined our ever-growing community. With new exciting dining experiences, fun academies for the kids, and new therapy centres to cure aching bones, there's an adventure at every corner! There's also more to come from May to October such as the exciting EATS Night Market @ ParkCity and Swiss Dream Circus, so be sure to mark your calendars!

We look forward to seeing you here!

Daily activities at The Central Park, Desa ParkCity

It was definitely a significant milestone for Perdana ParkCity Sdn Bhd (ParkCity) when Desa ParkCity took home the prestigious FIABCI Malaysia Property Award 2018 in the Master Plan Category.

Receiving the award on behalf of ParkCity was its Group Chief Executive Officer, Datuk Joseph Lau.

What has worked for us is our conviction and commitment to go beyond offering just nice homes by building an environment that promotes and nurtures wholesome values for a more livable community.

Desa ParkCity embodies the principles and approaches surrounding the idea of building a lifetime community. For ParkCity, we want people to be united by a sense of identity, a sense of connection and a sense of pride. It is also a place for all ages and abilities to learn and grow, interact and mature, thrive and evolve.

Something Exciting is Coming Soon!

THE WATERFRONT AT DESA PARKCITY IS GETTING AN UPGRADE

A favourite haunt for residents and visitors, The Waterfront at Desa ParkCity has been a real crowd puller for 10 years. With a vast array of tempting shops, its convenient location and open-air concept, this neighbourhood mall encompasses everything you need and more. Not to mention, the leisurely ambience that might make you want to stay a tad bit longer than you expected to!

Nevertheless, by the end of 2019, The Waterfront will have more to offer with a good handful of surprises. We're sure you've already seen the upgrading works in progress, with fast food mogul, McDonald's gracing the area and The Barn coming to life recently, but rest assured, the revamping of The Waterfront will be breathtaking at the very least. Completion is expected by year end, with the grand finale being worth the wait.

ToysRUs

THE NEW KID ON THE BLOCK

Toys“R”Us has been the leading toy, education and baby product retailer across the plains of Asia for several decades. Without them, the children of Asia wouldn’t have been exposed to the iconic Barbie dolls, which inspired what one might call - “Barbie Mania” amongst millions of little girls. Or the educational science lab kits, which probably spurred the aspirations of today’s surgeons and scientists. And not to mention, the line of baby toys that saved plenty of adults from disappointing at their friend’s kid’s first birthday party.

As a tycoon in the industry, they operate a network of over 500 offline and online stores that include Brunei and Malaysia. They also distribute in neighbouring countries such as Singapore, Thailand, Taiwan, and the Philippines as well as the homeland of toy fanatics- Japan, Hong Kong and China.

Yet, Toys“R”Us is more than all its impressive accolades. Instead, they strive to be one of the foundations of a happy kid and subsequently, a happy household by delivering unique experiences to all customers in each of their ten markets. Differentiated product ranges and services, loyalty programs for millions of members and an emphasis on quality and safety is key to Toys“R”Us’ success. By creating a deeply embedded bond of trust between buyer and seller, it’s safe to say that shopping at Toys“R”Us will be an experience at the very least.
